In 2009, Jaime Manriquez, Vice President - Information Security of Santa Cruz County Bank won the Executive Leadership in Information Security award.

The event was attended by end-users, IT vendors, venture capitalists and industry associations.

Chris Vein, CIO of City of San Francisco made a keynote presentation followed by industry panels.

Select One or More Sponsorships from the following Opportunities:

TYPES AND BENEFITS OF EACH SPONSORSHIP	Appreciate Your Customer Sponsorship	Industry Panel Sponsorship	Sponsored Corporate or Product Presentation	Friends of Technosium Sponsorship
Benefits	One of the biggest challenges facing companies is how to adequately thank their valued customers. Bring your best or prospective customers to the event as VIP guests. Together we will honor them at the event so that they will appreciate you with more referrals, sales and loyalty.	Today's marketplace is highly competitive. Establish your company leadership by owning a panel. You will be given the option to lead the panel as a moderator and invite up to 3 speakers to participate. A video recording will be made available after the event to promote your company.	The presentation will be 15 minutes long (total) and the vendor/ sponsor may distribute collateral and request for business cards directly from attendees during the presentation. A video recording will be made available after the event to promote your company.	This sponsorship permits the sponsoring company to receive an official recognition/ award from Technosium during the event. This recognition does not include the Hot Companies awards.
